An Early, Intergenerational Thanksgiving Feast at Fieldhome

Cortlandt Manor, NY, November 22, 2011 -- Fieldhome residents and the children from The Early Learning Center at Fieldhome got together and enjoyed an early Thanksgiving feast last week. This was Fieldhome's 16th Annual Giving Thanks Intergenerational Luncheon. The luncheon began with a reading of Thanksgiving is for Giving Thanks, by Margaret Sutherland, by The Early Learning Center's Director, Carol Milillo. The residents and children then each gave thanks for someone or something that was special to them. The children made the tabletop centerpieces, decorations and pilgrim hats and a traditional Thanksgiving feast was served, including roasted turkey, potatoes, stuffing, cranberry sauce and pumpkin and apple pie.

Fieldhome offers a unique intergenerational program year-round to its residents and patients through The Early Learning Center at Fieldhome, which is a member of the NY State Intergenerational Network.
