

FIELDHOME

*Rehabilitation • Skilled Nursing
Assisted Living • Memory Support • Child Care*

GENA M. PICCININI TURNS 100!

Celebration at The Seabury at Fieldhome on February 17th

Cortlandt Manor, NY, February 11, 2010 -- Gena M. Piccinini, a resident at The Seabury at Fieldhome, will turn 100 years old on February 17, 2010. A party to celebrate her centennial will take place at The Seabury at Fieldhome on Wednesday, February 17th, at 2:30 pm. Ms. Piccinini will be presented with a citation from Yorktown's Town Supervisor's office. There will be special entertainment and refreshments for family and friends.

Ms. Piccinini was born on February 17, 1910, in Brooklyn, New York. She received her Masters degree in Education from Columbia University and was a teacher in the NYC school district before becoming the Dean of Discipline at Walton High School in the Bronx where she served for many years. Ms. Piccinini is proud to say that she was one of the first women in the area to get a drivers license and, in fact, was still driving up until just a few years ago. She enjoys art, listening to music and visiting with her friends and family. Ms. Piccinini moved into The Seabury at Fieldhome this past Fall, where she resides with her younger sister, Dora Del Savio.

The Seabury is a luxury assisted living residence located on the 100 acre Fieldhome campus. Fieldhome, celebrating 130 years of service to the community, is comprised of a 200 bed skilled nursing and rehab facility, Field Home–Holy Comforter, and a child care center, known as The Early Learning Center at Fieldhome.

For more information contact Patti Horvath at Fieldhome at 914-739-2244 x5501 or by email at phorvath@fieldhome.com.

###